

MENTAL CONDITION CHANGES QUICKLY Williamson, Accused of Wife-Murder, Is Acting Like One Insane. HE IS IN PETERSBURG JAIL Declares Innocence of Death of Young Wife, Killed by Poison.

The Times-Dispatch Bureau, 109 North Sycamore Street, Petersburg, Va., June 17. Junius A. Williamson, who is charged with the murder of his young wife, Mrs. Pamela Williamson, in this city last week by poison, is safe in the custody of the police, having been brought back this morning from Tarboro, N. C., where he was arrested yesterday by Chief Ragland. He came with the Chief very willingly, saying that he had expected to be arrested, and that he was anxious to face the charge against him, and have the trouble ended. When Williamson went away, he left a note advising that if any trouble arose about his wife he could be found in Tarboro. He denies the crime imputed to him, and says he knows nothing whatever of the cause of his wife's death. The case will come up for hearing in the Police Court at an early day, when if confirmation is not made, the facts bearing on the death of the young woman will be revealed.

The assertion that has been made that Williamson has a wife living in Texas, where he resided several years ago, is being officially investigated, and the question will be definitely settled. In a corroboration of this assertion is a letter in Chief Ragland's possession, written in 1906, from a town in Texas, making inquiry about one George R. Williamson, who had married a young woman of good family there, had been guilty of some shady transactions with her relatives, and had finally left for Virginia for the purpose, as he stated, of winding up his father's estate. He bought a ticket to Richmond, where, he said, he had an aunt living—Mrs. Tibbs, on Buchanan Street. Some time after his departure from Texas, letters were received there, one announcing the sickness of Williamson, and another his death. The writer of this letter gives a description of George R. Williamson, which tallies exactly with Williamson now under arrest here.

Sudden Change in Williamson's Condition. Williamson was all right mentally when he reached Petersburg this morning, and when subsequently he had an interview with Chief Ragland. He spoke kindly and affectionately of his deceased wife, and said he had never had a cross word with her. Chief Ragland questioned him as to his life in Texas and as to his relatives mentioned in the letter. The details of the interview are not made public, but subsequently when the prisoner was visited in his cell he had apparently undergone a marked mental change. He appeared to be, or felt, as if insane. His eyes were wild, his actions were unnatural, he refused to talk and could not or would not recognize Chief Ragland, or any one else. Whether the sudden insanity is feigned or real will be settled later, but in the meantime a physician was called to see him.

Hastening Court Proceedings. Judge Mullen opened the June term of the Hustings Court to-day, but grand and petit jurors and witnesses will not be required to be present until to-morrow. There are several interesting Commonwealth's cases on the docket, which are expected to be tried at this term. Two negroes, William Wise and Dorsey Archer, are under indictment for the murder of Thomas Walker, colored, in March last. Wise has made a confession as to his part in the murder, in which he implicates Archer as the principal. Walker was knocked on the head, his throat cut and then he was robbed.

There is another case on the docket which has attracted attention, and which may never come to trial. It is that of Charles F. Huber, indicted for bigamy. He married a Miss Mansfield, an attractive looking woman, said to be of a good Southern family, in this city some months ago, and afterwards it was found that he had another wife living in the South. He was arrested in North Carolina and brought here to answer the bigamy charge and was admitted to bail in the sum of $500. When the case was called before last he failed to appear, and it was found that his non-appearance was due to his imprisonment in jail in Greensboro on a like charge there. He secured bail, which it is now stated, he has jumped, as it probably he will never come to Petersburg to answer the indictment here.

News in General. The officers and members of the State Association of Bks. and all visiting Bks. to the number of 250 or 300, were taken in charge by Petersburg Lodge this morning and given a delightful excursion on the steamer Rokeknet to Coggins Point, on James River, and were there initiated into the joys of a Virginia barbecue and Brunswick stew, with

The scout cars of the New York Herald and Atlanta Journal, now expected to strike the Virginia line on Saturday morning, and to reach Petersburg in the afternoon of that day.

The Business Men's Association is arranging to send out a large party of automobilists to meet the scouts this side of Emporia and escort them to the city. The association is also arranging to entertain the travelers at the Petersburg Club.

The Tarbox Murder Case. The Circuit Court of Dinwiddie county will meet next Monday, when it is expected the case of Mrs. Mary Tarbox, alias Mary Booth, who is charged with the murder of her husband, Daniel Tarbox, near Church Road, on the 17th of April, will be investigated and a probable indictment returned. Mrs. Tarbox was subsequently arrested at her home in Springville, N. Y., but Governor Hughes, while still holding her, declined to honor a requisition for her delivery to the Virginia authorities, on the ground of insufficient evidence to convict.

Frank H. Lewis, formerly of Petersburg, who was stricken with paralysis some days ago, is ill at the residence of Mrs. E. W. Grigg, on South Sycamore Street.

John T. Wilkerson, a bricklayer, while at work in the post-office building to-day, was struck by a stone falling from the roof of the building, and was severely injured, but not dangerously hurt. He was sent to his home, where he received treatment.

A party of young men and women went down the river last evening in a launch, intending to return about one o'clock. Not until midnight, however, was the party left to look for them. It seems that the company attempted to come up through the diversion channel, and the launch grounded in the mud. Owing to the darkness they remained aboard the launch until this morning, when they returned safely home.

Gifts for College. SALEM, VA., June 17.—President Morehead, of Roanoke College, to-day announced that the college had received more than $10,000 in gifts during the past year. Dr. Morehead declared that plans had been drafted and approved by the board of trustees for the extensive improvement of the college buildings. The A. B. degree was given to eleven students.

President Morehead announced the appointment of Herman Thornton, Ph. D., to be professor of history and social science; W. E. Maneval, Sc. M., acting professor of biology and geology; S. L. Powell, A. M., acting professor of chemistry and physics; George G. Peery, A. M., instructor in mathematics and physical directors.

DEGREES CONFERRED. Closing Exercises of Episcopal Theological Seminary. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] ALEXANDRIA, VA., June 17.—The Episcopal Theological Seminary of Virginia held its sixty-eighth annual closing exercises in the chapel at the seminary this morning in the presence of a large gathering, including professors, alumni and students. These, with Bishop Gibson, president, formed a procession and marched to prayer hall, where the professors and students took their places in the choir.

The exercises were opened with prayer by Bishop Gibson, after which certificates were granted to the following members of the senior class: Joseph W. Falford, Benjamin W. B. Motter, Minor Julius Peters, Zachary Taylor Vincent, Jr., and Joseph Williams. There is one graduate this year, William W. M. McCallister, Jr., B. A., of the Diocese of Southern Virginia. Mr. McCallister was the recipient of the degree of bachelor of divinity, which will be conferred upon him after he has written an approved thesis on his ordination to the priesthood. The following clergymen received the degree of bachelor of divinity: Rev. Henry S. Tucker, M. D., D. D., president of St. Paul's College, Tokio; Rev. Middleton Stuart Barnwell, B. A., assistant at Christ Episcopal Church, Baltimore; Rev. William Russell Bowie, M. A., minister at Greenwood, Albemarle county; Rev. Curtis Fletcher, B. S., of the Diocese of Lexington, W. Va.; and Rev. Robert A. Griesser, Ph. D., Hamburg, N. Y.

HEAVY DOWNPOUR. Winchester and Vicinity Visited by Disastrous Storm. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WINCHESTER, VA., June 17.—Winchester and the surrounding section was visited by one of the heaviest downpours in the history of this afternoon. The city pumping station was flooded and the pumps put out of service. The electric current from the house at power house and power cut off, several large mills having to close down. Water Street was flooded, the water running into some of the houses and filling the cellars. In the country considerable damage was done by growing crops and all the streams are beyond their banks.

Managers of the Manchester Colored High School commencement exercises were last night held in the First Baptist Church (colored). The principal speaker of the evening was D. L. Pulliam, superintendent of schools, who made an interesting address on the subject of "Parents Duty and Work for the Advance of the Schools."

Mr. Pulliam's speech was carefully prepared and ably aided by J. H. Blackwell, Ph. D., principal of the school, principal, and C. L. Winfree, assistant principal, had charge of the exercises. The address to the graduating class was delivered by Rev. A. A. Graham, pastor of the First Baptist Church (colored), of Phoebus, Va., following which the conferring of diplomas took place. Music was rendered between the speeches. The work of the school this year has been excellent, and the school board as a whole is highly gratified at the manner in which it has been conducted.

Mr. Bailey Quillies. N. P. Bailey, the member of the Board of Aldermen elected to fill the place of J. B. Ridd, resigned, at the meeting Tuesday night, qualified for the position yesterday, and last night served as a member of the Hear Report from Delegate. Willis C. Pulliam, delegate from Davis Council, No. 27, Jr. O. U. A. M., to the recent convention of the Funerals and Benefit Association, which is a branch of the order, at Long Branch, N. J., delivered his report before the local council at a largely-attended meeting held at Odd-Fellows' Hall last night. Following Mr. Pulliam's report two new candidates were initiated.

Judge Clifton will convene the June term of the Corporation Court Monday morning at 11 o'clock. The funeral of Miss Betty Hughes, who died at her residence in Chesterfield county Wednesday afternoon, will take place from the home this morning at 11 o'clock. Services will be conducted by Rev. Joel Tucker.

Though the time for paying the city license is now long passed, many of the merchants have failed to pay, and according to a prominent police official they will be forced to do so in a short time. The payments were due on the 1st of May, but thirty days of grace is allowed, and that has now been passed more than a half year.

Many of the delegates from this city who attended the State convention of Bks. in Greensboro, N. C., last night, report that the two days' session was a success, and that the trip down the Appomattox was fine. Robert McCormick, of Pittsboro, Pa., was visiting relatives at 1501 Perry Street.

The meeting of the Board of Water Commissioners for the purpose of electing a secretary of the Water Department will be called in a few days.

Funeral of Miss Frances Lyon. The funeral of Miss Frances Lyon will take place this morning at 11 o'clock from the mortuary chapel of the Hebrew Cemetery.

Insanity the Plea. CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 17.—Insanity was the plea entered to-day for the defense of W. S. Biggers, charged with killing J. Green Hood in front of the Central Hotel, in this city, last February. The State rested and the defense introduced witnesses. All of yesterday's proceedings were carried over to a jury. The arguments will probably occupy several days.

Buildings and Land Committee, which met in the Council chamber, on account of moving away from the First Ward Mr. Ridd, who has served on the Board since it was created in 1887, was completed. Mr. Ridd will in the future make his home in the Second Ward. He was an efficient and hard-working member, and while his place will be capably filled by his successor he will be missed by the members with whom he has served for so many years.

The meeting of the Assembly, postponed from last Thursday, failed to materialize. Rain was coming down so furiously at the time set for meeting, and only a few members showed up. The same was the case with the meeting of the Board of Public Works, which was held at the appointed time. The Buildings and Land Committee held a short meeting, at which only routine business was attended to, with the exception of the matter regarding the plumbing work which is to be done at the city jail, which was referred to a subcommittee.

William Gets a Lemon. William, alias George Clark, itinerant, who claims Petersburg as his home, but who lives in jail or on the rock pile a good part of the time, appeared in the Police Court yesterday morning again. The Mayor was so glad to see him that he will allow William to stay here for the next ninety days. During his visit he will be a guest of the city.

D. Jones appeared on the charge of allowing a vicious dog to run at large. He was allowed to go upon promise of seeing that the animal was kept penned up in the future. Last night only one arrest was made. A negro drunk was locked up and will be tried this morning.

Contractor Barnes Returns. Contractor Barnes, who is erecting the post-office building in this city, returned from a visit to Hamilton, O., yesterday, where he was in charge of the work. Mr. Barnes has the contract for erecting the government building in Hamilton, O., and stated yesterday that in a few weeks he would be entirely through. He will finish six weeks ahead of the contract time. At the conclusion of the contract Mr. Barnes will send his force of mechanics to this city and work on the post-office building here, which he pushed through yesterday.

Work here is not exactly as far advanced as the contract provides for, but now on it will be strenuously pushed.

Funeral of Miss Frances Lyon. The funeral of Miss Frances Lyon will take place this morning at 11 o'clock from the mortuary chapel of the Hebrew Cemetery.
